

Translated by Erika Scanned by Pat and Editation by Mercury^_^

FILE.7 Sting

Could not solve the mystery.

Even the world's greatest detectives

...

Someone's typing! Wh, who is it?!

The hidden camera screen ... ?!

Th, the screen?!

HUH?!

I have found the treasure
I'll tell you at the entrance
The seventh detective invited to this mansion

!?

There isn't a seventh detective!

All of the detectives called to this mansion are dead!!

Wh, what!?

Who could it be...

Then who!?

The one that set the bomb in the car, would never go in themselves unless they were committing suicide...

To make everyone think that you died in the explosion... Isn't that right?

Under one condition
...

You escaped from the car just in time and hid in the bushes and returned to the mansion. Then you were watching that with your hidden cameras...

Detective Senma ...

I just barely escaped the bomb in time and returned to the mansion just now...

How silly ...

You placed the coin on your right hand from the beginning .....

It was decided you would go before flipping the coins ...

And at that time we chose who would go by coins, didn't we?

Oh... So you're saying that I killed Mr. Ogami at the meal? Then tell me kid, how I managed to put the cyanide in his tea?

And you can do it if you already had the same coin from testing Mr. Ogami's tea, can't you? You're "The Phantom Child that God Abandoned", aren't you?

You then hid that coin with your left hand, and pretended to catch the coin you flipped. But the fact was, you dropped it on the ground. No matter how many times, you'll still get heads!

There is nothing to do with our seats ...

And not only that. Our seats were also chosen by pulling out the straws .....

Why I knew the time he would die... There was no cyanide in his tea, and Mr. Mouri was in between Mr. Ogami and me ...

Because you had already put the cyanide on everyone's cup ...

That's the place Mr. Ogami's right thumb would touch when drinking from the cup, and also where his thumb touched when he bit his thumb nail while thinking..

You put the cyanide on the top of the cup handle ...

Yes... That is a big mistake for a great detective like Mr. Ogami ...

But everyone was trying to be careful and wiped their dishes ...

By telling the maid to give out the tea a little before that... You can kill only Mr. Ogami at the time you want when he bit his thumb ...

The time he bit his thumb was when you told everyone the code of how to find the treasure .....

I was suspecting you from the time the maid said the Bence was there from the morning... For someone to stop their car in the middle of the car, you would need the person to stop the car and the person to pick up the person that stopped the car...

I wouldn't blame him for thinking he would never be killed and not having enough caution

Unless he was your partner and knew about the whole thing

Just like Detective Mogi a while ago

The reason you rode on Detective Mouri's car, was to tell him you didn't like cigarette smoke... If your fingers have cyanide and you take a cigarette, you would instantly die you decided to make the detectives find the treasure by their minds, and then kill everyone.

Yes... First you killed your partner Mr. Ogami, and then made it look as though you died yourself,

The reason you chose the maid, was because you saw from the camera in the meeting room that she also had the habit of biting her thumb, and you can kill her in the same way...

My father's name

At the end of the blood writing there was a name, Kyouzuke Senma... Is that...

Just like the Crow Association had 40 years go!!!

But half a year later, the money and the letters stopped coming, and my father didn't tell us so we didn't know where he was. We found out the reason when we shined the last letter sent to us in the light

And he decided that he wanted to see the treasure once before he died... I heard it was a good job, and everyday money and a letter came from a father. At first my mother and I were happy,

He was an archaeologist and was called here 40 years ago and that they called the important people and killed them all just enough to show they were bad... That even if the treasure was found he would be killed

That the Crow Association which was coming to an end, and that they called the important people

We found the writing my father made by poking holes in the paper... It was about the code and the treasure, and the fact that many important people other than my father were called

No... We noticed the writing at least 20 years later... At that time he Crow Association was gone, the leader was dead, and the mansion was in another person's hands

Did you tell this to the police?

Let's have great detectives solve the mystery!

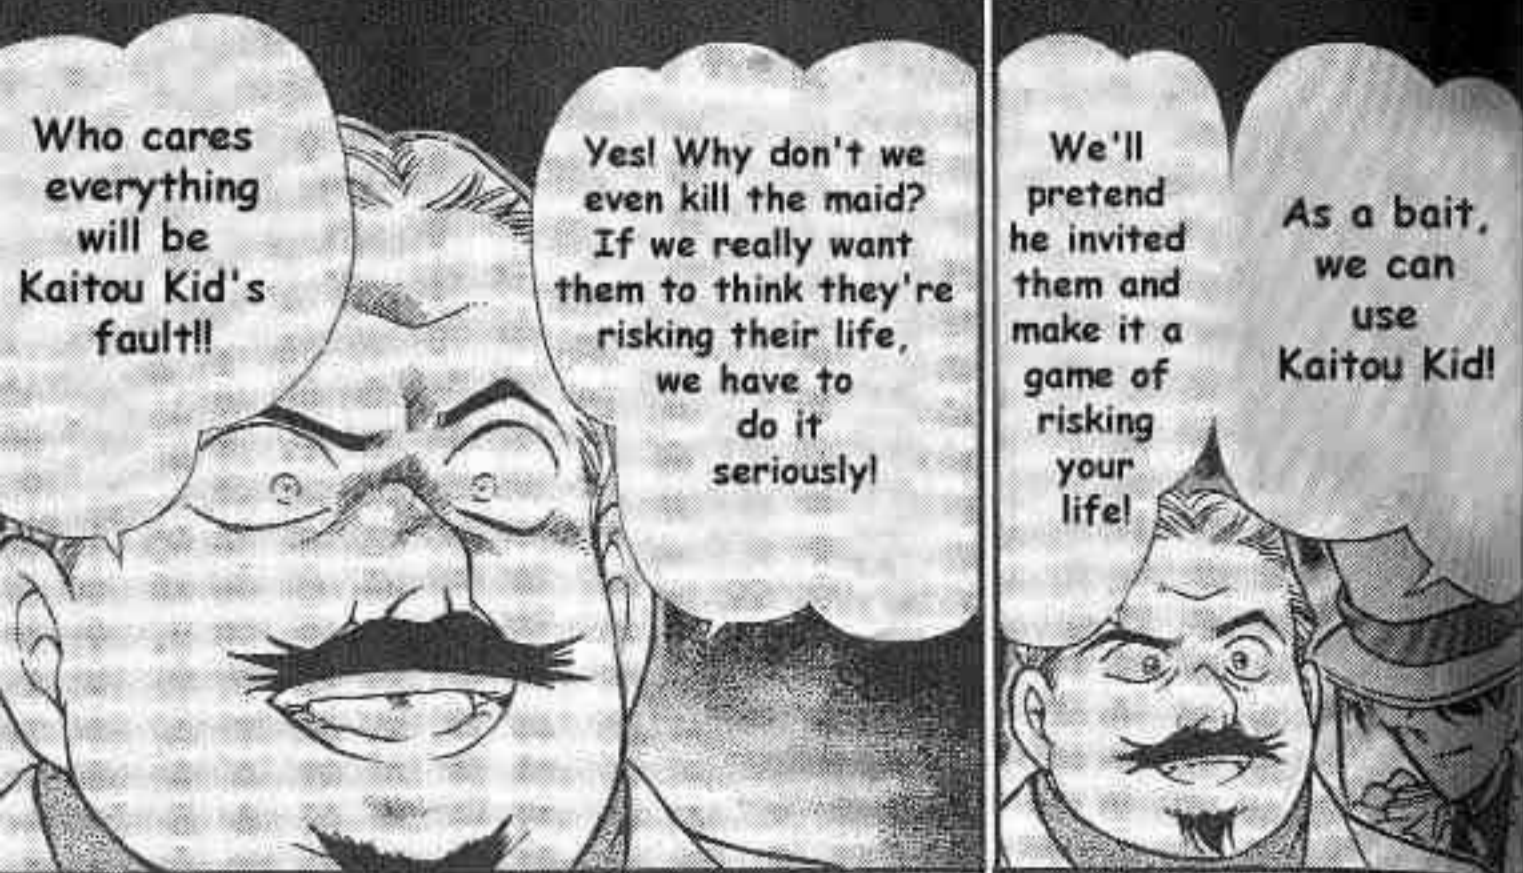

He borrowed so much money to buy the mansion and almost completely broke when he said...

He found the mansion, and searched for the treasure. But he could not solve the code..

2 years ago when I was talking to Mr. Ogami, it slipped out of my mouth by mistake

Who cares everything will be Kaitou Kid's fault!!

Yes! Why don't we even kill the maid? If we really want them to think they're risking their life, we have to do it seriously!

We'll pretend he invited them and make it a game of risking your life!

As a bait, we can use Kaitou Kid!

He was planning to kill the maid after the dinner ...

Yes... the reason I killed him was because I had put something in the tape he hadn't planned ...

It was Mr. Ogami... He was excited that he thought of a way to kill her from her habit... Amazingly, he didn't think he would be killed in the same way ...

Then the one who chose that maid ...

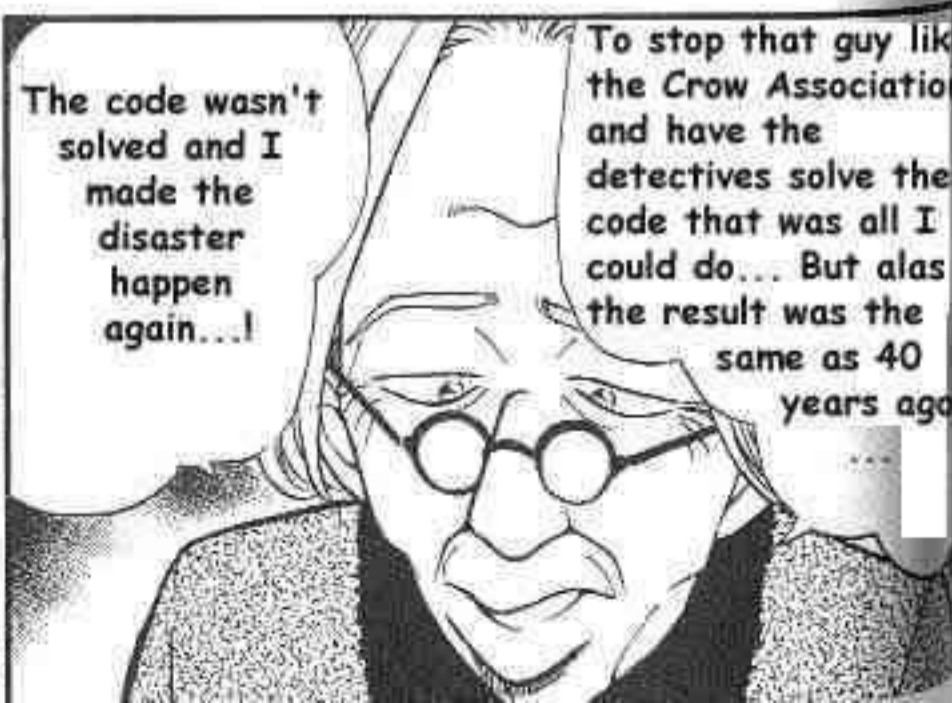

When he found the treasure, he was planning to kill everyone including me... And make it look like we killed each other with the guns in our rooms ...

But, why Mr. Ogami ...

What ?

No! It looks like your father had solved the code.

The code wasn't solved and I made the disaster happen again...!

To stop that guy like the Crow Association and have the detectives solve the code that was all I could do... But alas the result was the same as 40 years ago ...

So put the two arrows at the top like it says ...

"The Night the 2 Men Looked Up at the Night Sky" means the arrows are together at the very top, of the clock!

Don't you find it strange?

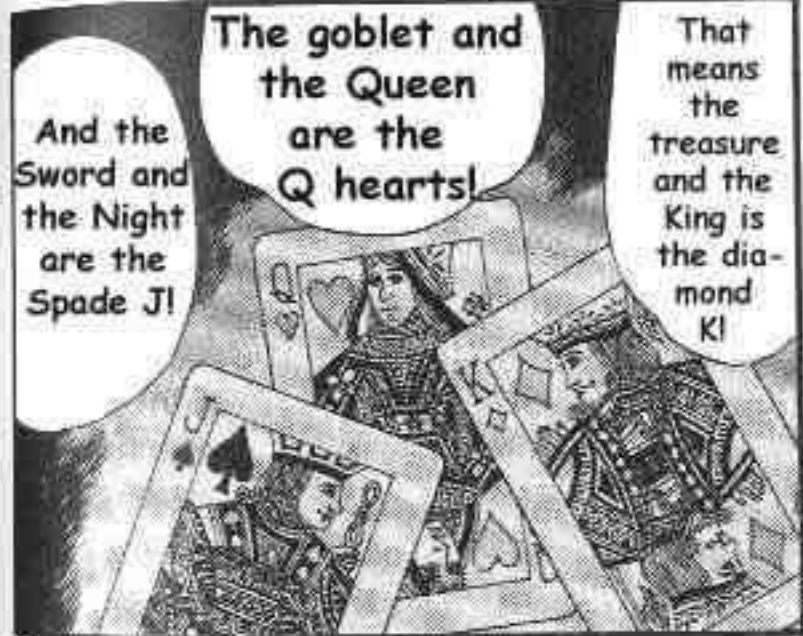

This is the only clock in the whole mansion.

That really was a symbol for cards!

And the next is the code your father left, the blood words!

And the Sword and the Night are the Spade J!

The goblet and the Queen are the Q hearts!

That means the treasure and the King is the diamond K!

Not only that diamond stands for treasure, heart stands for goblet and the spade stands for sword...

The King, the Queen, and the Knight in the code really mean the K, Q, and J in cards!

HUH?

13
12
11

Left 13, left 12, right 11 then ...

Now if we move the two arrow to the way the card's faces are facing ...

And this weight...
This clock is pure gold
...

I get it
...

The paint has come off and there is gold inside
...

The real world is a cruel thing
...

To think my father lost his life just for that
...

Humph,
just as I thought...

There is no way out of this mansion... I was planning to pass away here... I guess Mr. Ogami believed me when I said I would tell him
after dinner, though
...

Where is the way out of this mansion?

You promised,
Mrs.
Senma?

Oh, if you have any complaints, why don't you say it to the kid?

That's why I said, this trick wouldn't be successful ...

What are you going to do with my best suit

Granny Senma ...

Don't tell me you pretended to die just to ask me the way out ...

The one that said she would probably tell us if the opponent was only a kid ...

But I still say it was a good idea to make Ms. Ran go to sleep... This acting is too crule for a young lady's heart...

And on a TV screen, ketchup looks like blood!

And we thought that even if we found out while we were alive, you wouldn't tell us ...

Yeah... 'cause you were also trying to kill the one who solved it...

That's when it came to me ...

At that time, you stretched your arm to get the farthest coin from you...

When this kid let us to choose our coins ...

F, from when did you know I was the murderer?

And when we saw the dead body's right thumb, we just about got the trick...

That's why we immediately knew it was you and got moving right away!

That you didn't want anyone else to take that coin... That if someone touched the copper coin with their cyanide hands, the coin would turn shiny and we would know!

Oh, it's probably the police helicopter I called for...

What's that sound?

Now the last question is how to get out from here ...

Th, this kid ...

Called?

I tied a message to Watson's ankle, and as dawn came I had him give it to granny who had parked her car close to the cliff! Great! It was a good thing I put an X sticker on it so it would look different from other cars ...

C, could it be .....?!!

I also hear the sound of something crumbling ...

No, it's not just the helicopter ...

I wasn't sure because hawks don't have the instinct of returning to their nests like pigeons!

Then we wouldn't have to do that stupid play ...

Then why didn't you tell us?!

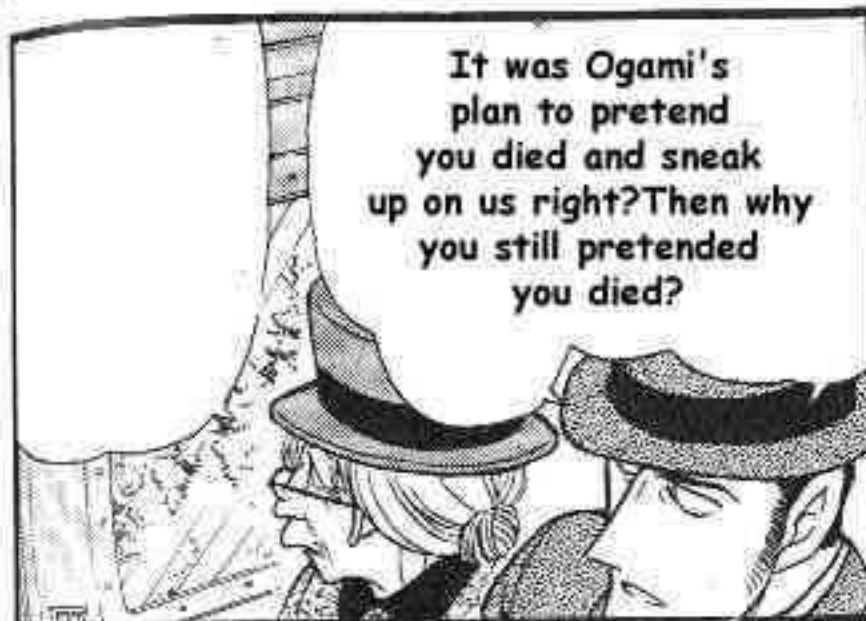

But Granny ...

Oh, it's not that..

Oh, did you want him to come?

So Kaitou Kid didn't come at the end ...

It was Ogami's plan to pretend you died and sneak up on us right? Then why you still pretended you died?

Was me ...

I guess the one under the Crow Association's spell ...

While I'm alive... I thought that there will never be another time like this, when great detectives include you all come while I'm alive

I wanted you to solve the code my father left me ...

G.

Eh?

Granny!?

What!?

M, missed!!

D.

Dad!!

Eh?

Eh?

KA..

KAITO
KID
??!!

If I hadn't done this, you wouldn't have been able to escaped
...

Huh?

As an apology of using your name as the master
...

Hey granny!
Aren't ou a little too old to try to die?

Don't be silly! I did this to save you
...

From those kids
...

Especially the little one
...

The cigarette ...

Oh, I guess he found out ...

with his watch ...

That was aiming for you

But you haven't smoked one from the time you got here, have you?

Kogorou Mouri is a heavy smoker ...

Lovers you never want to meet...

Sort of like ...

Hmph ...

Who are those kids?

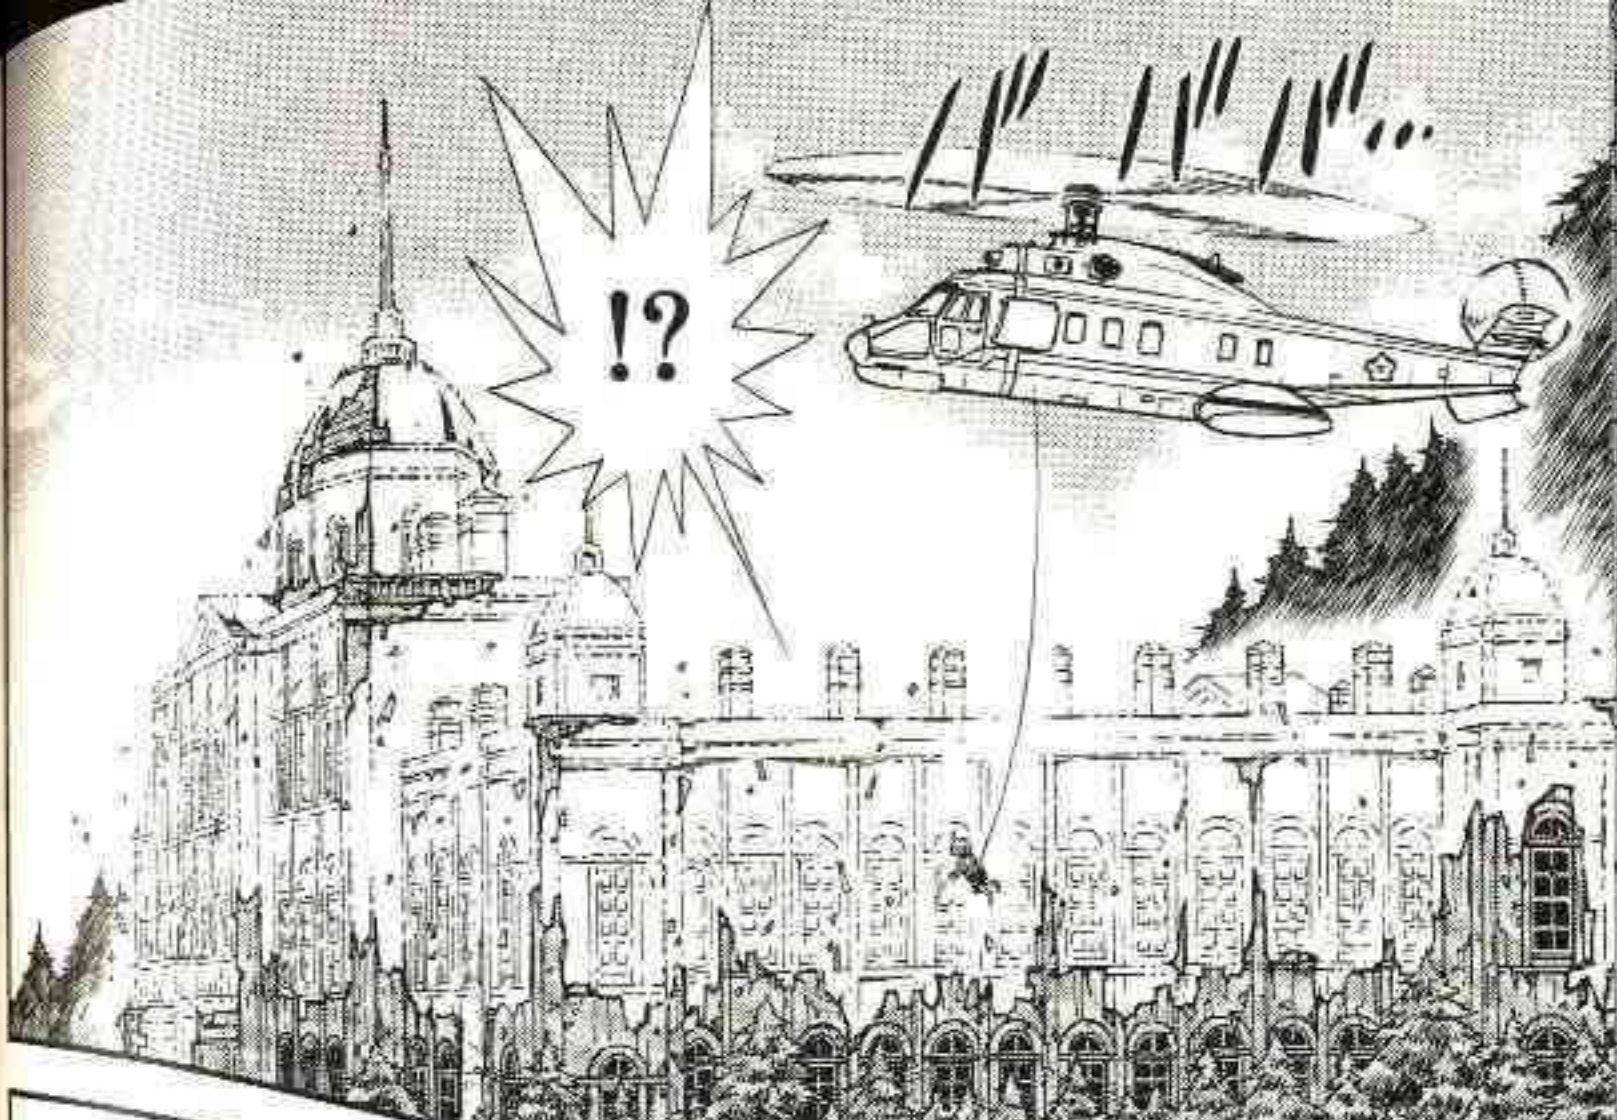

What?

I haven't thought about how to take something that big ...

H, hey ...

I wanted it but I'm not so sure now ...

Well I guess it was too bad. You wanted the treasure didn't you?

It really is a Sunset Mansion!!

I get it... Sunset means the time when the sky shines a golden color

...

The Crow Assoc. would have something at least that big

...

I guess that clock was a switch to make it start

Th, the walls are peeling off..

...

where is the real dad~?

Hey, I still have one question

